

Fire alarm field service technician

Requirements: Ma. Systems Technician License D or greater, basic computer skills

Position: Full time

Easton Electronics, Inc.

Canton, Ma

www.easton-electronics.com

Wanted: A fire alarm professional licensed to work in the state of Ma. looking to join a world-class leader in fire protection service and advanced fire reporting technologies. Must desire to work for a company that:

- Believes the key to success is providing the very best in customer service
- Is made up of a team that enjoys what they do, where they work and who they work with and that supports one another
- Knows employee satisfaction leads to customer satisfaction

You will be based out of your home location and are not required to drive to our office location daily.

Additional benefits:

- Take home company vehicle
- Advanced technician support tools: laptop, smartphone, cellular internet access, company designed software, online scheduling and dispatch, remote access support systems and much more
- Competitive compensation
- Field and factory training
- Health and dental
- 9 paid holidays plus vacation

Easton Electronics is a leader in world-class service, testing and maintenance of fire alarm and fire sprinkler systems. Additionally we manufacture, supply and support the most advanced wireless reporting system available today to fire departments and similar organizations. This position involves the service, installation, support, maintenance and testing of these systems utilizing the most advanced technologies, much of which was developed by Easton Electronics.

Applicants must have a strong desire to work with, learn, and experience the latest technology and equipment. Fire alarm experience, basic computer skills and a minimum of a MA D license are required. Experience in access control and security is a plus. Must be able to be available for after-hours on-call service one week per month

If you're a motivated individual with a great work ethic, a friendly, customer-orientated personality and looking for an enjoyable and challenging work environment please provide us with your resume as we have the position you're looking for.